

Mormonism and Social Science, A Conference

Sponsored by the Mormon Social Science Association, UVU Religious Studies, and UVU Behavioral Sciences Department

March 29, 2017
Utah Valley University

Sessions in Library Auditorium

9-9:50 AM,

Lynn England, Appreciating Ephraim E. Erickson's Psychological and Ethical Aspects of Mormon Group Life

David Knowlton, Mining and a Forgotten Chapter of Mormonism in Latin America.

10-10:50 AM

Leann McGraw, Effects of Religiousness on LGB Latter-Day Saints: A Case for Awareness and Acceptance.

Tim Heaton, William Bradshaw, and Debjani Chakravarty, Religious experience of non-heterosexual Mormon women.

11-11:50 AM

Rick Phillips, Mormon Identity in the United States: Ascribed and Achieved Characteristics.

Devin Singh, Ingroup Preference and the Mormon Church.

12:-12:50 Lunch

1-1:50 PM

Michael Nielsen and Lotte Pummerer, Temple Recommend Status as Indicator of Devotion.

Duncan Humphries, Make Virtue Be Thy Thought Unceasingly: A Pathway to Scrupulosity.

2-2:50 PM

Patience Kabamba, Karl Marx, Jesus, and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

David Knowlton, The Church and Mormonism.

3-3:50 PM

Brad Kramer, Revelation and the Modern Subject: Are Mormons Moderns?

Jeff Torlina, Disvaluing Social Science at UVU.

4 PM Free

5 PM Dinner by invitation

CB 511

7:00 PM, Keynote Address

Armando Solórzano, Latinos en Utah: Theology, Ethnicity, and Religion.